The INTERMONT

1963

Published by the Senior Class VIRGINIA INTERMONT COLLEGE, Bristol, Virginia

SCIENCE HALL, the latest step in the Development Program, is nearing completion on the Intermont campus. The workmen have built the reality from the dream and the plan. So each of us comes here with a dream and a plan and begins to build toward her own personal reality.

DEDICATION

Out of our deep humility in the presence of his knowledge and wisdom,
And in gratitude for all that he is and for all that he has helped us to become,
We dedicate this, the 1963 INTERMONT, to

Mr. C. Ernest Cooke

scholar, painter, playwright, wise and witty teacher, and true friend.

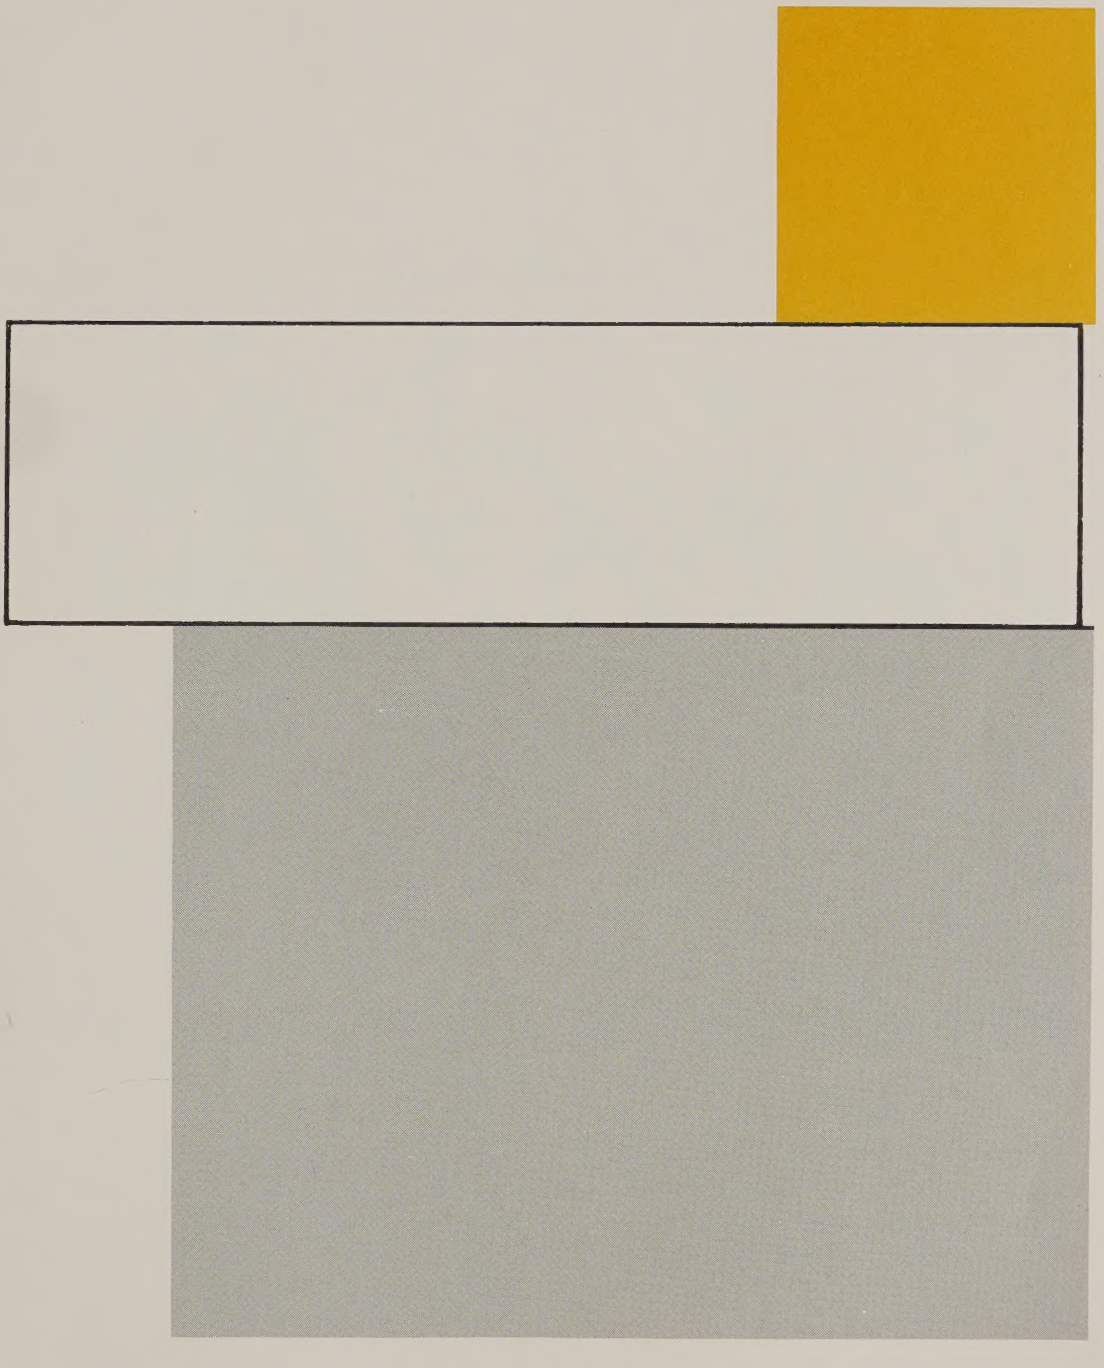
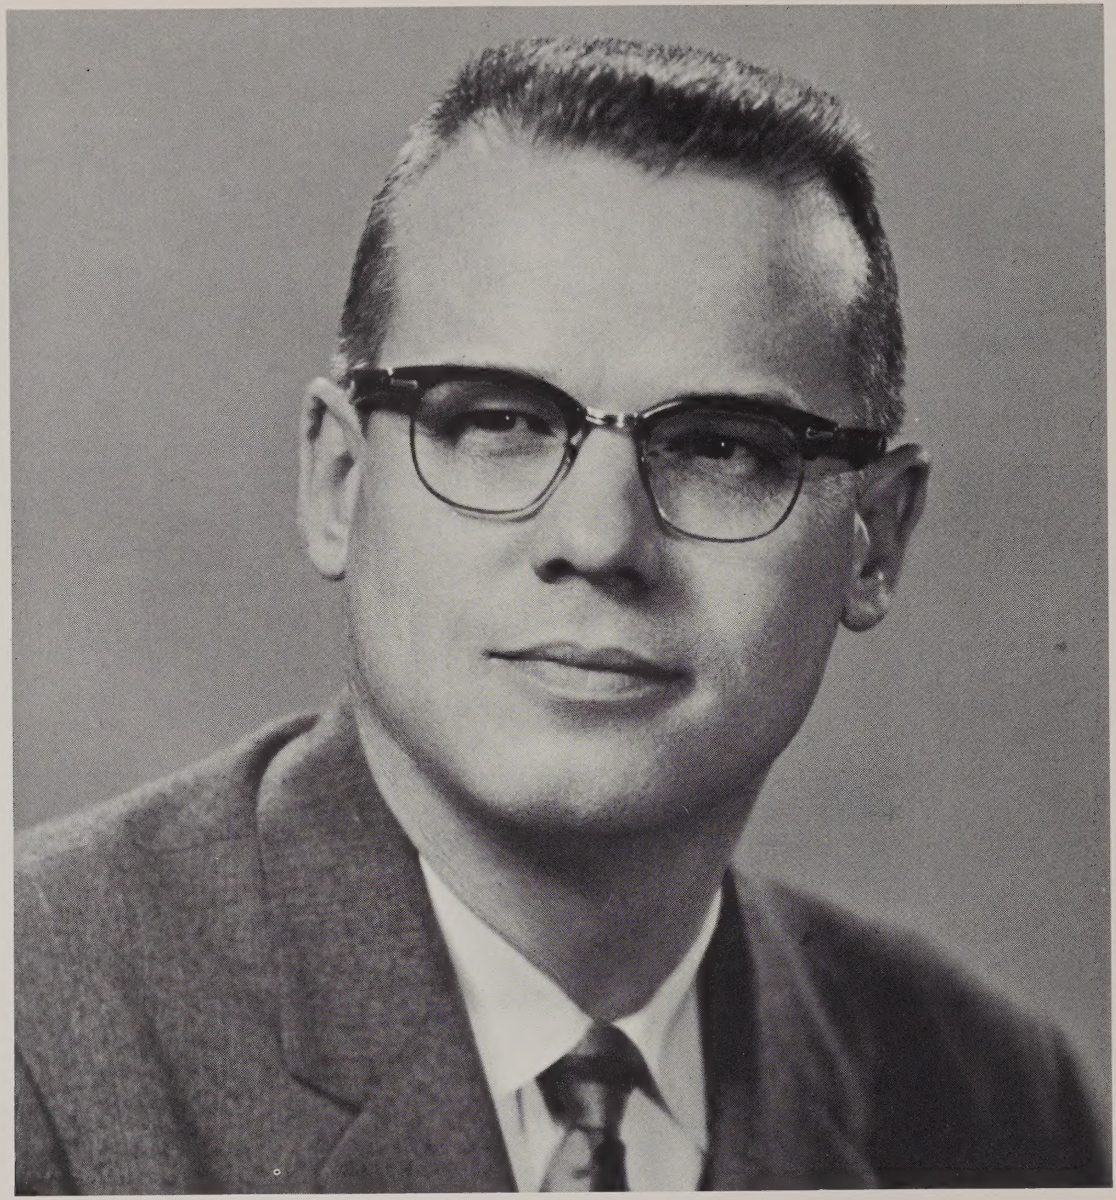
On this foundation . . .





At a time like this, the temptation to reminisce is always great. In many respects this has been one of the best years in the history of Virginia Intermont, and you, as a student, have been a major factor in making this so.

I am always very much aware of the fact that, as I am able to know each of you personally, I am the chief beneficiary of our relationship. I thank you for this.

To the Seniors, my very best wishes for the future, and please keep in touch with us.

To the Juniors, have an active, happy summer vacation. We shall be looking for you next September.

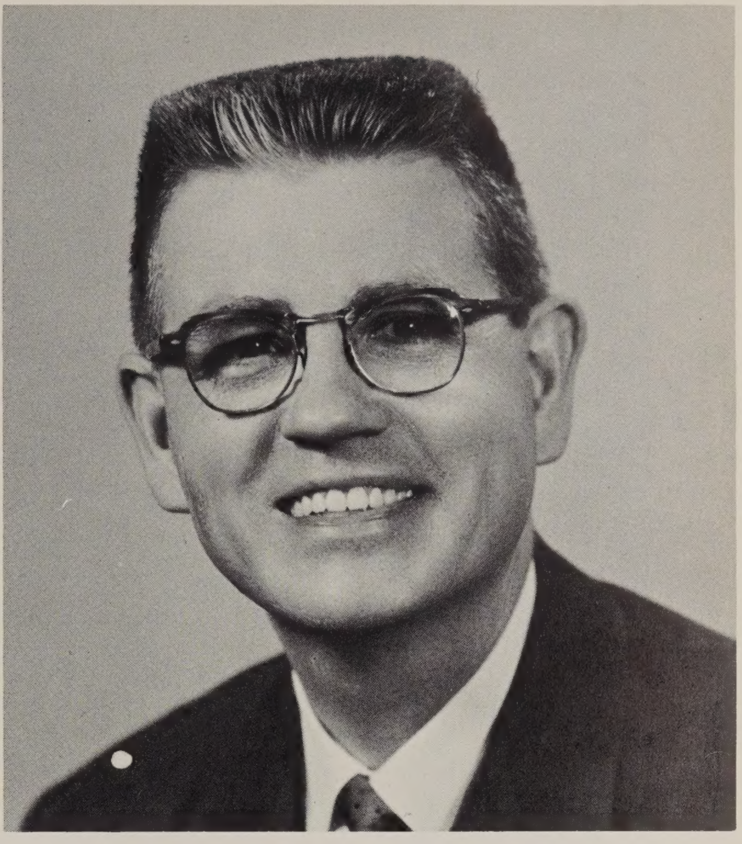
Cordially,
FLOYD V. TURNER
President

Mr. Carl E. Todd

Dear Seniors:

Soon you may be entering a new vocation, going to another college, or getting married—any one of which will be a tremendous challenge to you. Remember that each thing you do is an outward manifestation of your inner love and honor for God and His ways. Live deeply each experience you have, for life returns to you what you give to it. Never look lightly upon the gifts God has given to you. Continue to polish your gifts and share them with your fellow man, and life will be sweeter for you.

Most cordially,
Carl E. Todd
Dean of the College



Miss Louise Brewer

Dear Seniors:

We congratulate you upon your successful completion of these two years here at V. I. May you look back with many happy memories of good times and wonderful friends. We hope these years have given you knowledge and abilities with which you will be able to meet and overcome your problems, and help you fill your places as useful citizens.

Sincerely,
Louise Brewer

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Student Government is composed of every student at Virginia Intermont; its main objective is, therefore, to further the best interests of the student body. Doing this, it strives to secure cooperation between different organizations and to promote responsibility, self-control, loyalty, and honesty among the students.

The focus point of the Student Government is found in the Student Council, a group composed of the Student Government officers, the president of each hall, a day-student representative, and three second-semester juniors. Throughout the year these girls devote themselves to helping each student find her place at Virginia Intermont, leading or giving advice whenever called upon.

Senior Class Proclamation Song

Love and life and honor
We've gained through friendships here
With hearts that are full;
Days of hope and triumphs
Are days that we hold dear,
They are ours;
Her stately walls, we hear them call,
They ring with truth and joy.

As the years roll by, lamp will light,
Star will guide,
This our seal, our goal, and our pride;
God, we need your strength,
Need your faith, need your love;
Help us to fulfill our ideals.

V. I. C., we'll cherish your ceaseless
Memories with truth and loyalty
Towering high to the future beneath
An azure sky,
This is ours;
Her courageous goals, within our souls,
Will live forever more.

Dear Little Sister,

You are about to embark on a new adventure in the art of living. V. I. will be the center of your life for two years. There will be sadness and sorrow, gladness and joy; there will be people to be with or without, friendships to make or break. You will be confronted with freedom and restraint, choices and chances, committals and compulsions. Above all, you will get out of your adventure only what you put into it. There is a new life here waiting to be lived. Your "Big Sis" is here waiting to show you the scenes. Just turn the pages and foresee the future.

Sincerely,
BIG SISTER

"Air-Raid, Rat!" "Where's your beanie, Rat?" "Don't smile, Rat!"

Eee-gads, those Seniors are doozies. My beanie is growing roots!

I had to give the "rat-look" to Mr. Owens in the middle of Botany class. I felt like a cactus in a hydrophyte environment!

I was embarrassed when my tail got stuck in the Library door and Mr. Cooke tripped over my curtain rod. He fell on the Intermont seal! (Horrors!) Of course, he received a week of campus!

Rat-court ended this week of memories. Next year I'm really going to show those Rats!

Days flew by and we sang our hearts out and ears deaf. The purpose: to win Song Contest. Our formation was that of a G, which resembled a beanie, and a Y with tired blood. But our feeling was strong and a tradition of devotion developed. The ouija board was wrong. We lost the contest to our Big Sisters, but we won in friendship, feeling, and togetherness.

Dear World,

The stress of this daddy-boppin' where-where is driving me down deep. Evening ebbs the snuff of smoke; facades of Freud are slowly broke. So I scream, "Get your foot out of my sky!" I search for the essence of the moment, of being, while the world grows colder and I must shiver and plunge in. Coffee, talk—years later, did we meet the challenge?

Till then when,

When the unbearable w-w-h-h-r-r of the siren escapes and clamors unsecretively down the hall, one yells, "Fire Drill!" And another exasperatedly responds, "Well, let it drill on someone else!"

So we join the bathing beauty brigade to the sundeck to gain a tanned tummy, squint lines, and views of pigeon due. "Will you take your hip out of the ash tray?" "I would, but there isn't any other place to put it."

Religious Emphasis Week proved very inspirational and rewarding. "Campus Call For Faith" opened my mind to new avenues of meditation. The speakers were challenging and thought provoking.

I'll look forward to Religious Emphasis Week next year; it's a time for one to take a close look at her religion and to examine her goals and purposes in life.

Class competition in intramurals stays keen throughout the entire year. Even though the Seniors won the trophy before Christmas, we came through in the basketball game!

Emily Sue Kemp and her spirited team certainly did our class credit—42-31. We didn't have the Effigy, but who needs effigies to win!

The game was hard and fast. Above all sportsmanship and school spirit prevailed. It was our first victory. We stood as a class. It felt so great!

April found girls frantically searching for a date for Publications week end, for one could hardly endure to be left out of the fun of the biggest week end on campus. While INTERMONT and Cauldron staff members tore their hair with last-minute preparations, eager and excited students pressed their formals and fought for appointments with hair dressers.

May 4 arrived—the big week end—and there we were . . . jockeying for space on the dance floor of the Student Center . . . overeating at the front-campus barbecue and resorting to last-minute waist cinchers . . . whirling in a Japanese garden ruled by white-gowned debutantes of the publications staffs . . . memories to preserve in scrapbook and diary.

ART

Amid a chaos created by tubes of oil paint, sticky brushes, and unfinished canvases, students in art at Virginia Intermont seek to express artistically their individual ideas and emotions. Whether art be a hobby or a career, each of these girls develops her particular talent under the supervision of Mr. Al Todd, instructor of the fine art classes, and Mr. Joseph Ward, instructor of the applied art classes.

Intermont offers courses in drawing, painting, design, lettering, interior design, and advertising in the modern atmosphere of the Fine Arts Building.

Intermont students have had many occasions to appreciate the various exhibits which have been displayed this year in the galleries in the Fine Arts Building, the Library, and the Student Center. These exhibits have featured the works of area artists in one-man shows and in the well-known annual Regional Art Show.

SPEECH AND DRAMA

A beautiful theater, a willing cast, and a patient director and technical director are the basic ingredients for a theatrical production in Intermont's new Fine Arts Center. This year's productions were: a variety show; "Let Fall no Burning Leaf," by C. Ernest Cooke; Twelve Angry Women; The Second Annual Reading Recital; and two student-directed one-act plays. Classes were conducted in Masters of the Drama, play production, directing, acting, and design. Classwork and production combined to imbue all who participated with the work and the magic of the theater.

An integral part of all effective communication is the training of the speaking voice and knowledge of speech problems and techniques. Results of speech courses such as these are evidenced in various intercollegiate oratorical and forensic meets and shows here at the College. One such was "Voiced and Unvoiced," a program of oral interpretation and pantomine which was presented this year.

MUSIC

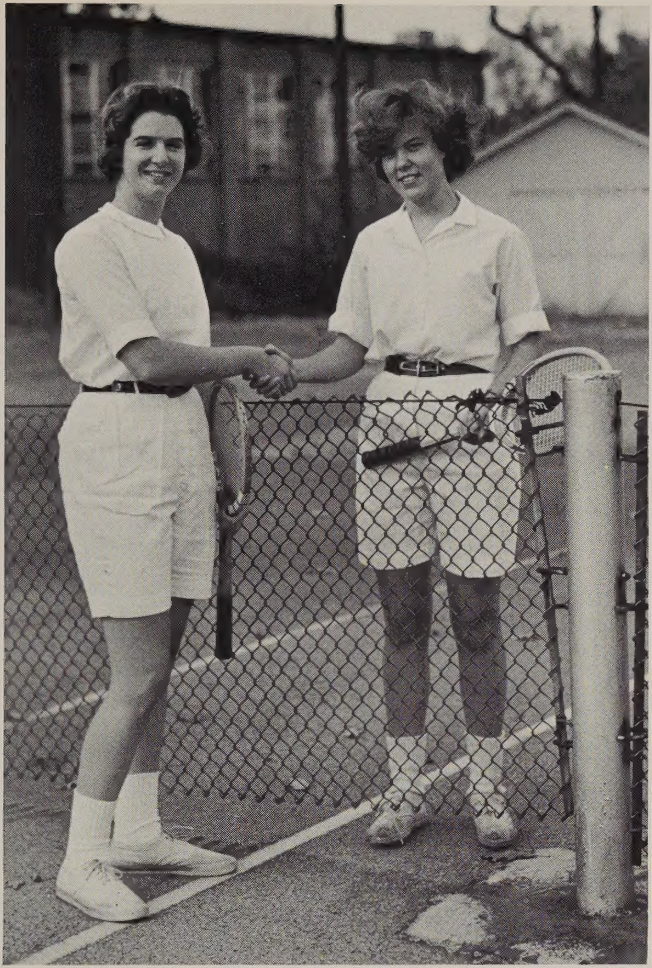
Courses in music may be elected in any of the Intermont curricula, or students may major in music, receiving instruction in the first two years of any standard program leading to a degree in music. Virginia Intermont is one of the very few junior colleges which has been admitted to membership in the National Association of Schools of Music.

Applied courses in piano, voice, and organ are offered. Students are given an opportunity, at frequent recitals, to demonstrate their accomplishments.

The Chorus is open to all interested students passing an audition. This organization is kept busy with its performances on and off campus. The Chorus presented its Christmas program at schools and churches in and around Bristol. The Spring Festival and Commencement activities round out the year. From this group, smaller groups of girls are organized to sing for local clubs and organizations.

Randy Weston's jazz group presented a history of jazz.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION



Physical Education is a vital part of one's education. It helps the student to develop skills for the worthy use of leisure time and to become engaged in activity which is conducive to physical and mental health.

A variety of sports are offered on the Intermont campus. They range from hockey, basketball, and softball, to tennis, swimming, golf, dancing, and many more.

Departmental instructors are Mrs. Don Smith, Mrs. Beverly Canter, and Mrs. Charles Dickenson. These instructors strive to help the student help herself.

EQUITATION

Both saddle-seat and hunt-seat equitation are taught at Intermont. The college maintains a well-equipped stable of 18 horses, a regulation show ring, and facilities for riding in bad weather.

The riding classes strive to be of value to those who wish to learn or to improve horsemanship, and they also strive to create interest in group riding. In addition, a course in equitation instruction and stable management is offered. This course includes classroom lecture and actual practice at the stable.

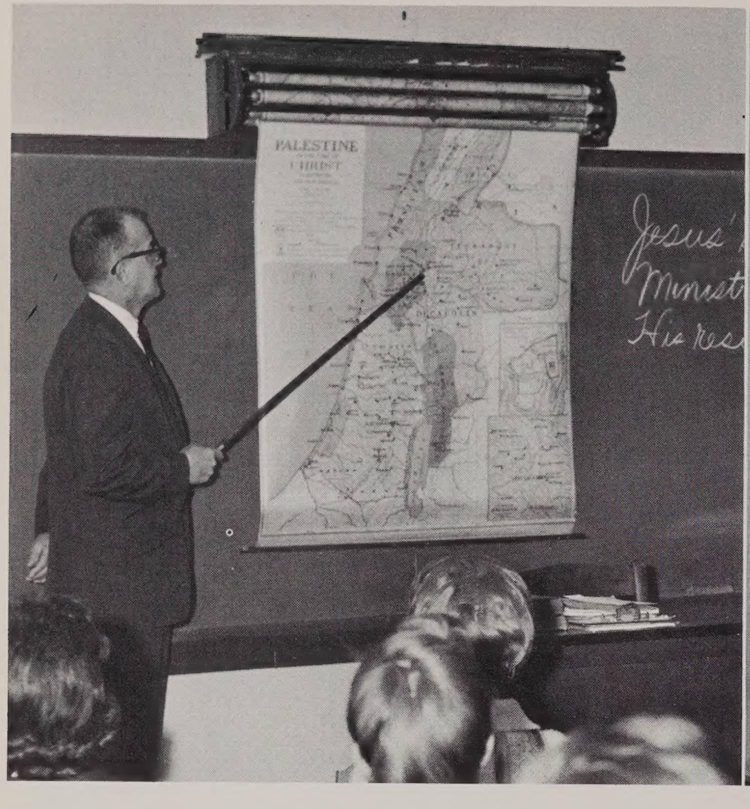
NURSING

If you're an early riser at Virginia Intermont, you're probably familiar with the nursing students. Their working day begins at 7:30, at which time they are already at Bristol Memorial Hospital carrying out various skilled assignments in the fields of general medicine, surgery, obstetrics, and pediatrics.

Each student works three hours a day three days weekly at the hospital, then returns to the campus for additional classes.

During the summer between the junior and senior years a course in psychiatric nursing is completed in Williamsburg, Virginia. Upon completion of this course, a diagonal black stripe is added across the corners of the previously obtained white cap. On graduation day, a second stripe is added to each corner.

Graduates of the nursing course receive an Associate in Arts degree, which enables them to take the Virginia State Board examinations.



A variety of courses in the general fields of history, religion, philosophy, language, and literature offers students at Intermont the opportunity to gain a strong cultural education.

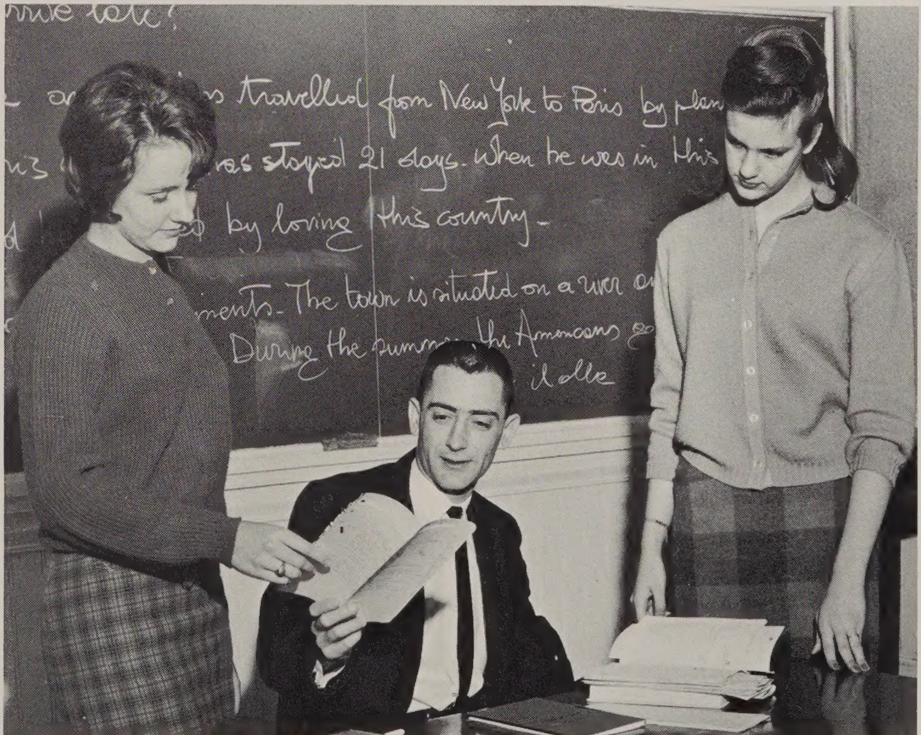
This foundation in the humanities provides them with a perception of the long, continuing story of Man and with an awakening awareness of their own involvement in that story.

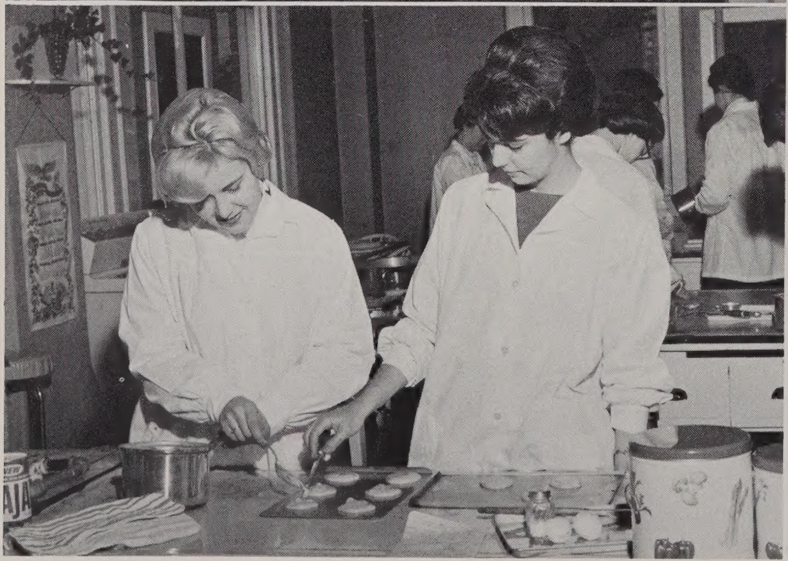
HUMANITIES

LANGUAGES

As the world grows smaller, and the need for understanding between peoples grows proportionately greater, the study of languages other than our own gains increasing importance.

Foreign language study is offered at Intermont in both French and Spanish. Students may choose from courses in basic grammar, literature, or conversation in either of these languages.

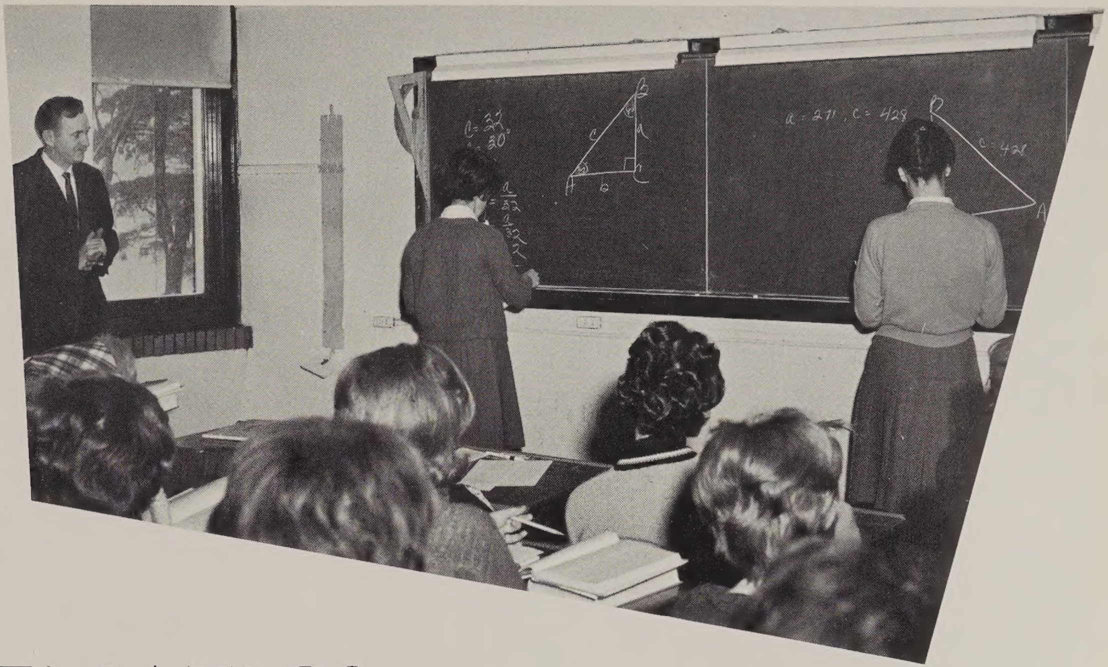




HOME ECONOMICS

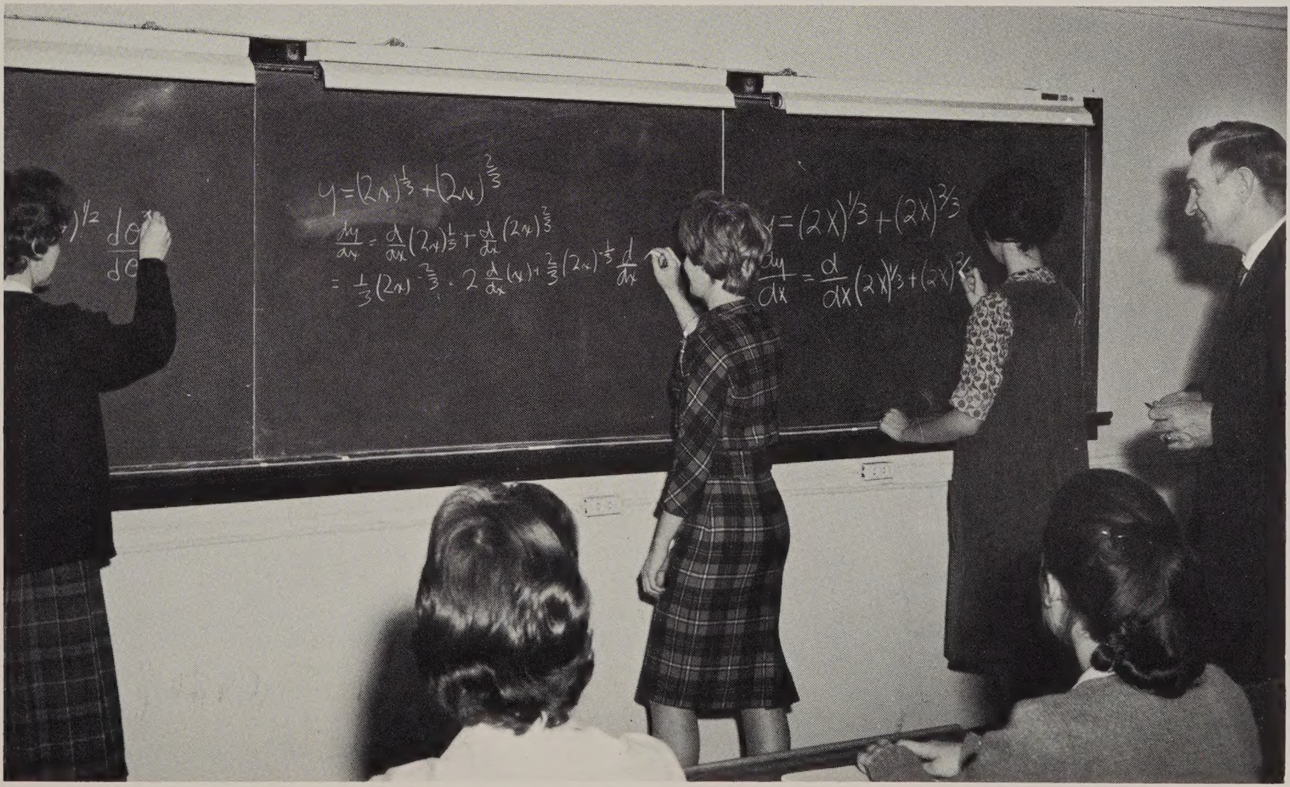
Through its classes in foods and nutrition, textiles and clothing, home management, health, and home nursing, the Home Economics Department of Virginia Intermont strives to prepare its students for the future.

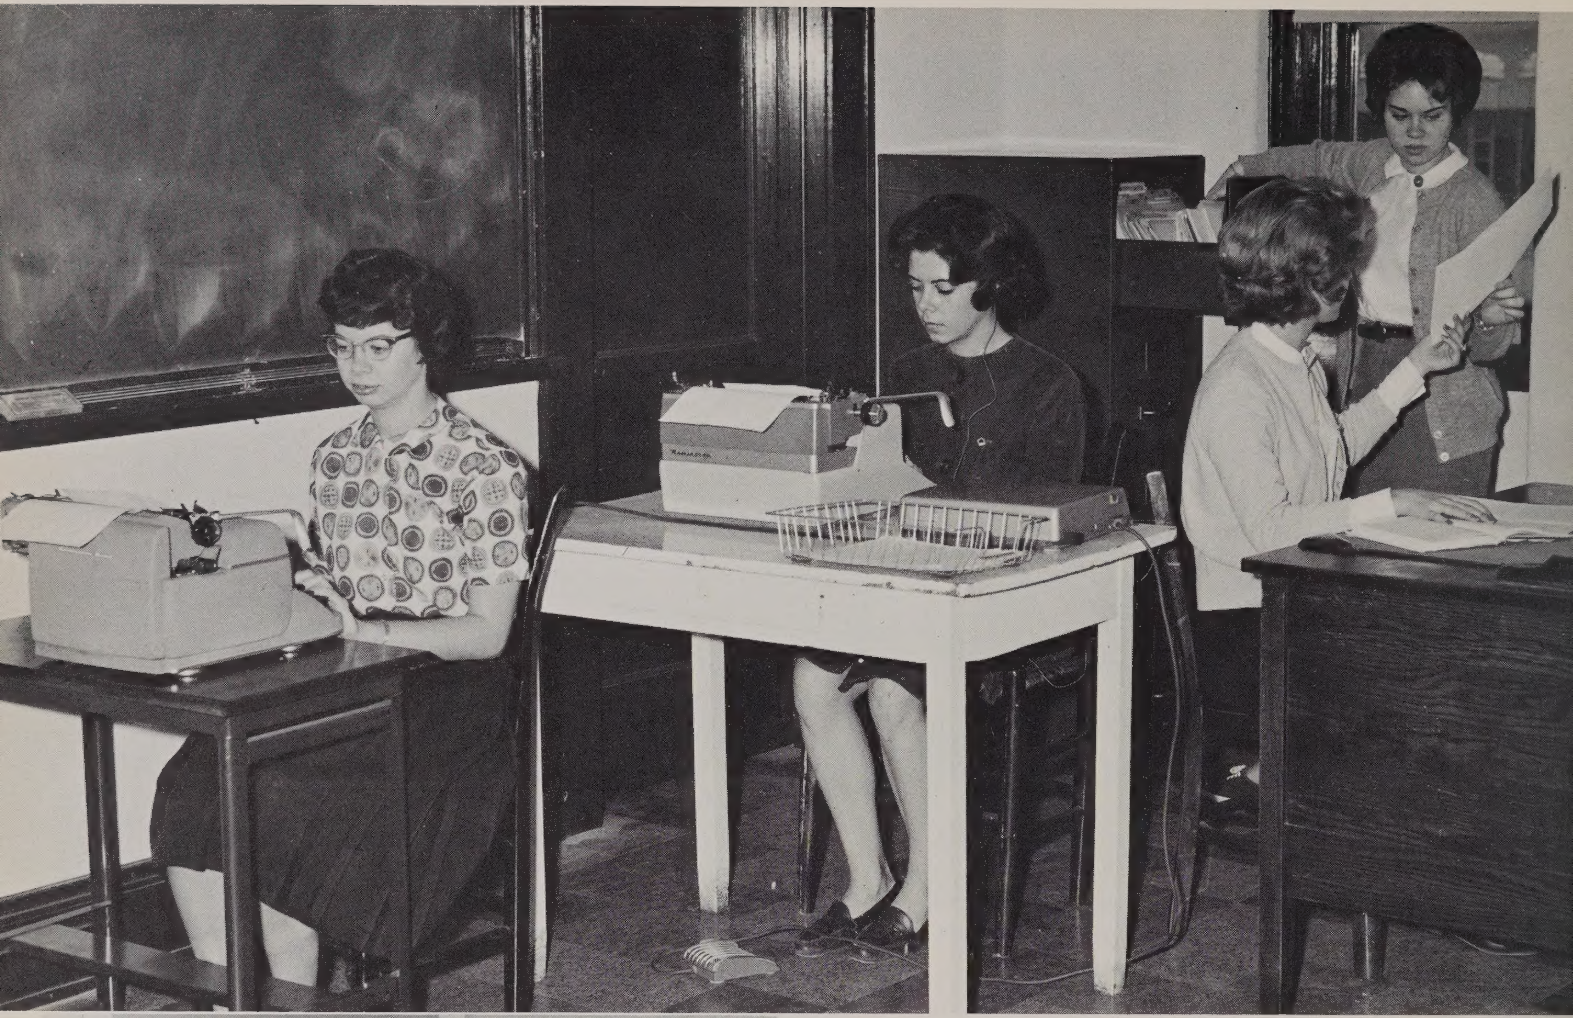
The Home Economics student may continue her education for a career in dietetics, textiles, teaching, interior design, or any one of the many other fields open to her; or she may put her knowledge into practice in her own home.



MATHEMATICS

It has been said that mathematics is the language of science. In today's world there is hardly a career that does not rely on mathematics and/or statistics. Classes in algebra, trigonometry, analytical geometry, and calculus prepare Intermont students to meet the challenges of their chosen professions while providing good exercise in analytical reasoning.





SECRETARIAL

Excellent training in the field of business education is offered through the Secretarial Department at Intermont. Miss Mary Lou Smith, head of the Department, is assisted by Miss Clara Longbrake, Mrs. Jerry Myers, and Mrs. Joe Richards.

The General Secretarial curriculum offers accounting, shorthand, typing, office practice, and allied theory courses. These prepare students for secretarial positions in business offices of all kinds. For students especially interested in the medical secretarial field, a specialized curriculum is offered which includes courses beyond the general secretarial level in medical transcription, medical office practice, and in the necessary sciences. To gain practical experience, the medical secretarial students work once a week in local doctors' offices.

SCIENCE

The major areas of science instruction at Intermont —chemistry, physics, and biology— reflect the increased emphasis on these subjects in which the entire world of education is participating. Classes moved into the new Science Hall in the spring of 1963. Here, amid the most modern and complete classroom and laboratory facilities, instruction will go forward at a pace consistent with the ever-increasing importance of the sciences.

Intermont offers courses in general physics, general and organic chemistry, general botany and zoology, anatomy and physiology, and microbiology. With microscope and bunsen burner the students delve into the worlds of physical and natural sciences, preparing themselves for life in the atomic age.

Dancing is a beautiful way for a dancer to express her innermost thoughts and feelings. This expression requires years of training to develop true skill, grace, and form in both ballet and modern dancing.

Classes are open to all girls who have or wish to develop a serious love and appreciation for dance as a medium of expression. Modern dance is taught in the school studio, and the ballet students are given the opportunity to study at the Constance Hardinge School of Ballet in Bristol. Credit is given in physical education.

Beauty, poise and enjoyment are shared and revealed through the expression of one's emotions in dance. The dance is the gift of giving, of living, and of expression of perception.

RELIGIOUS PLANNING BOARD

Under the leadership of President Jackie Dague and Director of Religious Activities, Miss Betty Lee Smith, the Religious Planning Board stands as one of the outstanding groups on campus. Among its activities for a typical year are the Harvest Carnival and the Christmas Party, both of which bring a happier holiday to the underprivileged children of Bristol; evening and special holiday devotions; and Religious Emphasis Week, an inspirational and enjoyable week devoted to the promotion of faith on the college campus. This year's special activity was the provision of a dual-purpose study and pleasure room. This room, located under the chapel, was painted and redecorated by the members of the Board for the use of the entire student body.

The membership is made up of the presidents and devotional chairmen of each denominational group on the campus together with the Director of Religious Activities. With spiritual as well as social guidance the board is able to coordinate the religious activities of Intermont very effectively.

The BSU of Virginia Intermont is one of the most active organizations on campus. Other groups through which BSU works are the Sunday School, Baptist Training Union, and the Young Woman's Auxiliary. Plans for the BSU activities are made in the Executive Council and are carried out in the Greater Council.

The BSU sponsors the weekly birthday dinners, the campus-wide breakfast at the beginning of the year, and a tea for the student body.

CANTERBURY CLUB

The Episcopal girls at Intermont work together through the Canterbury Club. Under the guidance of their officers, Canterbury girls are responsible for "Peanut Week," one of the most delightful and enjoyable weeks of the year. The church-sponsored family-night dinners and discussions which Intermont students attend as "daughters" of their church parents, have been immensely successful this year. General meetings are held once a month, and the Executive Board meets monthly. Canterbury adviser is Miss Mary Lou Smith.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

The girls who are affiliated with denominations not represented by organized groups on campus are provided with a religious association through the Student Christian Fellowship.

The main activities this year were the making of Thanksgiving favors for the nursing homes, giving gifts to underprivileged children, a banquet at Holiday Inn, and a picnic.

The Student Christian Fellowship meets regularly with planned programs. Frequently these programs feature local ministers as speakers.

Mrs. Fletcher is the sponsor.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

The Wesley Foundation is the organization through which Methodist girls worship God together and enjoy Christian fellowship with other denominations. Wesley sponsors the Christmas caroling in the hospitals and homes for the aged in the Bristol area and the candlelight service held just before Christmas vacation. This year Intermont's Wesley has sent delegates to Methodist Youth Movement Conferences throughout the state. The ever-helpful sponsors are Mrs. Griffin and Mrs. Schubert.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Intermont Newman Club, composed of the Catholic students and sponsored by Father Fahey of St. Anne's Church and Miss Geneviere Reody, is one of the smaller yet more closely knit groups. Besides semimonthly meetings and various social gatherings, this year's club joined with the Sullins group in having a breakfast, at which time the girls met their respective church parents. The purpose of the club is not only to unite the girls in their faith, but to acquaint the new students with their new environment and to be of service to the school in every aspect of religious life. The group is a member of the National Newman Club Federation.

WESTMINSTER FELLOWSHIP

Those girls who are Presbyterian participate in the Westminster Fellowship, which adds its spark to the Christian friendship to be found on the Intermont campus. The Westminster girls have enjoyed several activities throughout the year including a fall outing with other local Westminster Fellowships, parties, and interesting talks by some of our local ministers. Westminster has also co-operated with other denominational clubs in several activities at Intermont.

YOUNG WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

The Young Woman's Auxiliary is an organization provided primarily for Baptist-affiliated students, although members of all other denominations are welcome. The purpose of the YWA is to study and practice missions. Some of the activities sponsored this year by the group were banquets, mission offerings, plays, an Easter egg hunt for underprivileged children, and various community missions projects. The group also participated in the activities of the Religious Planning Board, including the Christmas Party for the needy children.

The 1963 INTERMONT

In presenting the INTERMONT to you, we wish to thank every person who had a part in making the 1963 edition possible. Our thanks especially go to Mr. Joseph Ward, our adviser, without whose understanding advice and untiring aid this yearbook would not have been possible.

We hope that the 1963 INTERMONT will, in years to come, recall to each of you some of the many happy days which you have spent here at Intermont.

The CAULDRON

Published monthly throughout the school year, the Cauldron strives to keep students informed and entertained and to inspire an interest in problems of collegiate America. Editorials, news and feature articles, and various columns span all phases of life at Virginia Intermont.

As well as serving as a training ground for those interested in journalism, the Cauldron provides a medium for the publication of student creative writing. Numerous original poems, essays, and letters written by the members of the student body have appeared in the pages of the newspaper. Of special human interest are the columns: Denominational Doings, concerning religious activities; Around and About, giving glimpses of activities at other colleges; Bridle Bits, telling of the activities of the riders; The Rebel Yell, reflecting life and attitudes on campus; and the regular sports coverage.

The Cauldron finds the time element its major problem. A monthly publication has difficulty with stale news, but even monthly deadlines create pressure. News must be gathered, articles and features composed and written before the first page of copy can be taken to the printer. Then comes the long process of proofreading and laying out the pages before the paper goes to press. Effort finds its reward when the freshly-printed Cauldrons are slipped into the mailboxes.

Ann Robson, Cauldron editor-in-chief, interviews student for an article in the next issue.

Rushing to meet copy deadline is Susan Bishop, news editor (center back), and her news staff.

PHI BETA

Phi Beta is one of the two Honor Societies on the Intermont campus. It is a national speech and music fraternity for women, and it elects its members on the basis of scholarship as well as ability. Phi Beta is a senior college fraternity. Intermont is one of two junior colleges to be invited to membership—a marked recognition of the outstanding work done in the Intermont Music Department.

Virginia Intermont is proud to claim the Alpha Beta Chapter of Phi Beta Fraternity as its own. The young women in this chapter take pride in their work, and are striving for a better understanding of music and the fine arts.

Phi Theta Kappa, national junior-college honorary scholastic fraternity, established its Nu Chapter at Virginia Intermont in 1927.

Recognizing students outstanding for their qualities of scholarship, leadership, and service, Nu Chapter bi-annually taps girls with a 2.0 (B) average. Each girl must carry at least fifteen hours of work per semester, twelve of which must be in the liberal arts or home economics fields.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Athletic Association is the only organization on the Intermont campus in which every student is a member. The fun, experience, and activities that are enjoyed by all participants allow for the development of good sportsmanship and leadership on and off the campus.

During the school year the Association sponsors numerous sports in an intramural program, the annual Effigy Hunt, and Song Contest which are all presented in a wholesome atmosphere of competition between the classes. The Association this year sponsored an enthusiastic Diet Club.

H_2O CLUB

The H_2O Club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Don Smith, gives students an opportunity to participate in synchronized swimming.

The club elects its members on the basis of skill in synchronized swimming. These talented girls demonstrate their ability through the presentation of an annual water show. By blending hard work with their pleasure in water sport, they provide the public with a remarkable presentation of co-ordinated swimming.

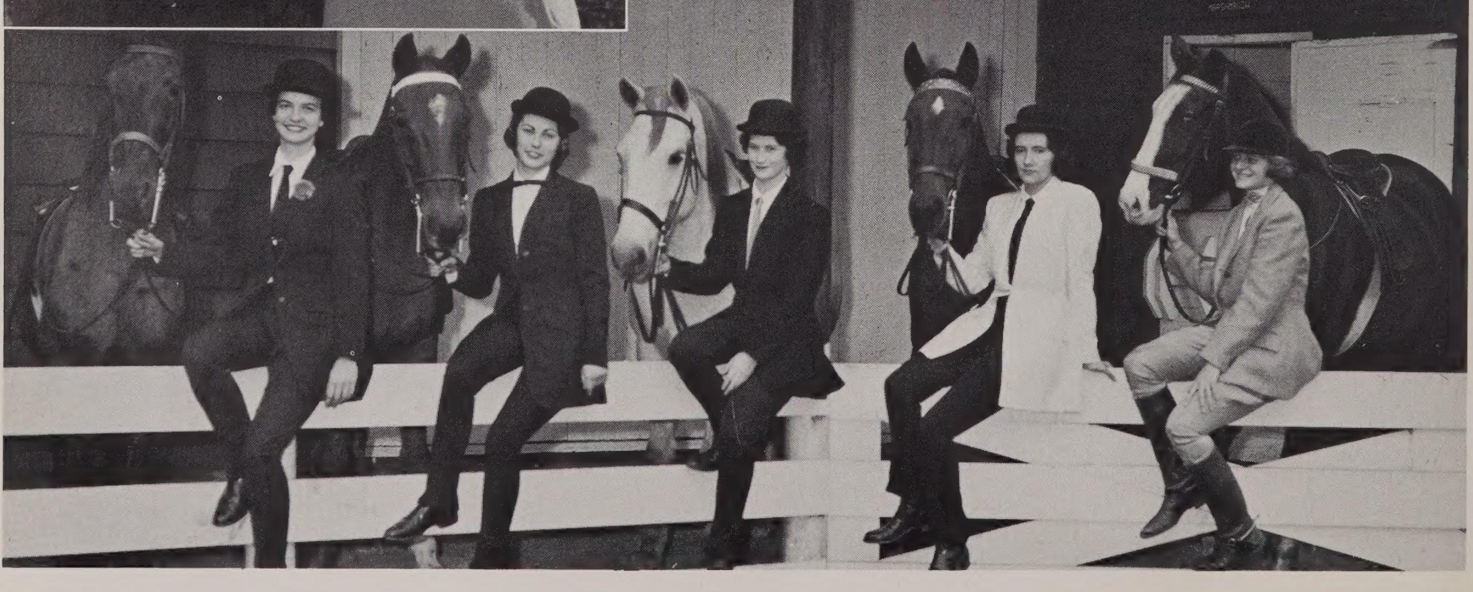
BOOTS AND SADDLE

The Boots and Saddle Club, open to all riding students, meets once a month for a business meeting followed by a program of equine entertainment, such as movies, stories and poems about horses, and games.

Highlighting the year's activities are the annual banquet, the horse show in the spring, the fall gymkhana, and the Christmas party. The club also sponsors a tea for the parents following the horse show. Eighteen girls journeyed to Louisville May 3 for the Kentucky Derby.

Programs featured by the club included a reading of a Christmas story about Pegasus, the mythological winged horse, a film, "The Greatest Horse On Earth," and the horsy quizzbee.



AREANNES

The Areannes is an organization of one of the largest segments at Intermont—the day students. These girls are always willing to help new students become acquainted with Bristol. Throughout the year they cooperate in providing enjoyable informal dances for the student body and hospitality for prospective students from area high schools.

CURRY CLUB

The Curry Club is an organization open to all who are interested in speech and theater arts. Members of the club participate as actors, debaters, and crew members in the various speech and dramatic activities on campus.

The programs of the club are suited to the members' interests. Some of the programs have featured guest speakers from the Barter Theater and from local television stations. Excerpts from famous plays, performed by members of the acting class, have been presented for the pleasure of the members.

The new theater has provided an ideal atmosphere and ample facilities for members to develop their creative talents in speech and dramatic art.

DELTA PSI OMEGA

In recognition of the quality of its work in the theatre arts, Virginia Intermont has been awarded a chapter of Delta Psi Omega, national honorary dramatics fraternity for junior colleges. Membership can be won only through successful participation in dramatic performances of recognized merit, though pledges need not be aspiring actresses in order to qualify for membership. Backstage work and managing positions are equally important, and must be engaged in before consideration is given to a prospective member.

Ellen H. Richards Home Economics Club

The Ellen H. Richards Home Economics Club is open to any girl taking a Home Economics course. The club seeks to promote pleasant, wholesome, social affairs; to combine educational and business interests; and to take an active part in worth-while community activities. Outstanding among these community projects is the work with the Girls' Club of Bristol.

NOSTRAE FILIAE

The Nostrae Filiae Club, a combination service and social organization, is composed of all girls whose mothers, grandmothers, aunts, or sisters have attended Virginia Intermont in past years. The underlying purpose of the club is to offer suggestions for the betterment of Intermont. This year Nostrae Filiae has been very active under the leadership of president Barbara Johnson and the other officers. Several projects have been completed in addition to service deeds at Christmas and Easter. The group has climaxed these projects and meetings by enjoyable social activities throughout the year.

NURSES CLUB

"The world grows better year by year
Because some nurse in her little sphere . . ."

This quotation is the foundation for the function of the Nurses Club. Into each student nurse's day come moments of strife, the trying of her patience, and the blame for many minute mistakes which she may or may not have made. The Nurses Club is the shoulder that receives, analyzes, and attempts to soothe these numerous ills. The final outcome? Unity.

The open house and dance, in November, was the year's highlight. Other activities include the club Christmas party, donations to local charity organizations, and a monthly social function.

OFFICERS

Pat Bolling	President
Betty Johnson	Vice-President
Marilyn Reach	Secretary-Treasurer
Mrs. Tarter	Sponsor

The Student Activities Committee is composed of the presidents of the two classes and presidents of departmental clubs. It is under the leadership of Miss Barbara Frogge. In committee meetings, the members discuss methods of increasing the effectiveness of their several organizations, and are concerned with the development of the campus social community.

Events sponsored by this committee include trips to V.P.I., free movies, Charm Week, and many more.

ART CLUB

One of the newer clubs on campus, the Art Club is open to anyone interested in art. It gives its members the opportunity to develop and promote an active interest in and appreciation of art among the students.

It has arranged receptions for guests at the shows in the Fine Arts Gallery, and has given a dance for the student body. Its largest project has been the creation and execution of the scenery for the annual H_2O Club Water Show.

Mr. Al Todd, Fine Art instructor, and Mr. Joe Ward, Applied Art instructor, are the club sponsors.

ORCHESIS

Orchesis was formed during the second semester. It is a modern dance group of interested girls who have had some introduction to this creative form, and who wish to continue this means of expression outside the classroom. Orchesis gave its first production in May, a series of dances expressing emotion through motion. The theme demonstrated the development of love as it begins in the child and culminates in mature religious emotions.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club endeavors to acquaint its members with the French language through a practical application of what they learn in class. It is one of the newest and one of the most enthusiastic clubs on campus. Dr. Riviello is the club's affable sponsor.

FIRE WARDENS

Each year one girl is chosen from each hall to be a fire warden. These girls are responsible for keeping the halls free of fire hazards, for conducting fire drills, and for checking rooms during drills. The girls are taught how to use fire equipment and have periodic meetings with the fire wardens from Sullins College.

The fire wardens sponsor chapel programs during Fire Prevention Week and are members of the Southwest Virginia Firemen's Association.
